

POWERWELD 308L Stainless Steel Electrode

Description

- Extra low carbon, rutile type electrode
- Exhibiting superior for all positional (except vertical down) performance with an improved moisture resistant coating for weld metal of high radiographic integrity
- Low spatter and excellent slag control, high arc stability and easy restricking
- Suitable for general welding stabilized & non-stabilized 300 series stainless steel